JOY

Let a joy keep you.
Reach out your hands
And take it when it runs by,
As the Apache dancer
Clutches his woman.
I have seen them
Live long and laugh loud,
Sent on singing, singing,
Smashed to the heart
Under the ribs
With a terrible love.
Joy always,
Joy everywhere—
Let joy kill you!
Keep away from
The little deaths.

My head knocks against the stars.
My feet are on the hilltops.
My fingertips are in the valleys and shores of universal life.
Down in the sounding foam of primal things I reach my hands and play with pebbles of destiny.
I have been to hell and back many times.
I know all about heaven, for I have talked with God.
I dabble in the blood and guts of the terrible.
I know all the passionate seizure of beauty
And the marvelous rebellion of man at all signs reading
"Keep Off."
My name is Truth and I am the most elusive captive in the universe.

Dedication

Miss Eileen McCabe

With sincere appreciation for her guidance and stimulation as a teacher and friend, we proudly dedicate this record of a year in the life of our school, to which she has been lovingly devoted, to Miss Eileen McCabe.

I have kept high moments.
They go round and round in me.

. . . don't take my style away.
It's my face.
Maybe no good.
but anyway, my face.
I talk with it, I sing with it, I see, taste and feel with it,
I know why I want to keep it.

Language

There are no handles upon language
Whereby men take hold of it
And mark it with signs for its remembrance.
It is a river, this language,
Once in a thousand years
Breaking a new course
Changing its way to the ocean.
It is mountain effluvia
Moving to valleys
And from nation to nation
Crossing borders and mixing.

I speak of new cities and new people.
I tell you the past is a bucket of ashes.
I tell you yesterday is a wind gone down,
a sun dropped in the west.
I tell you there is nothing in the world
only an ocean of to-morrows,
a sky of to-morrows.

Senior Will

We, the Senior Class of 1968, being of critical minds and spasmodic bodies, do hereby bequeath:

Bruce Armstrong: To Mr. Abell and Mr. Stewart I leave two candles, ten feet of cannon fuse, two cans, six cherry bombs, one hundred fire-crackers, and one book of Conan Doyle Mysteries so that in time they may elevate themselves to master detectives. (You're acquitted Conrad). Finally, to Marsha I leave Dad's Mustang; may she keep it in good shape 'til I get back.

David Benninga: To Wallace Dawkins I leave my industriousness.

Mary Louise Barber: I leave all Spanish classes to Bob Miller and Mike Moser with a prayer for Mrs. Griffin. Because of my super efficient note taking in Student Gov't., I leave a complete record of all unfinished business to Ken Wright. To the cheerleaders and teams I leave my fog-horn voice. To Marsha and Ann I leave a set of cheerleading rules, old uniforms, and old cheers, and to Marsha, my fearless ability to hand out black marks. To Miss McCabe I leave my red wig to add to her collection. To Vaughn I leave a KKK hood.

Jay Cheesborough: To Randy Ferrell I leave my skis and my membership in the Flat Rock Ski Club if Duke approves. To John Van Blaricom I leave my prayers that he and Jeff may recruit some new tennis stars so we will continue to have a tennis team. To Trailways Bus Line I leave a map to Glade Valley, N. C. as I am sure they have never seen one. And, of course, I leave myself and all other earthly possessions including my redtailed shark, my blue herringbone shirt, and one heck of a phone bill to Nancy.

Larry Formato: To Conrad Madden I will my empty wallet to curtail his rollicking weekends at the "Cellar" — ha! ha! My thorough knowledge of the rules of the school I leave to any up-coming trouble maker. In order that Mrs. McClain be on time for home room I will my lightning fast Honda! — Charge!!

Glenda Harris: I will my fascinating Southern accent to Rebecca Mynatt, who I hope will not get "pinched". I will the remains of my white rat named Claude and my 20 words per minute in typing to Kathy Rogers who deserves them both. Most importantly I will the intricate depths of my mathematical perception to Diane Wondisford who can carry on the tradition of being beautiful but dumb.

Nancy Hendricks: To Ann Hinds I leave my arrival at her house at three o'clock in the morning and my ability to put false eyelashes on straight. To Marsha Woodard, one tube of Ultra-bright, two jars of Dippity-do and a big picture of Bruce and his pool table. Finally I leave Jay Cheesborough one siamese kitten, a 32 point bridge hand, our trip to the Bahamas and an infinite number of trips to Waynesville.

Kippy Keever: I will the pillow from the front seat of my car to Trent Van Blaricom. I leave three inches of my golden tresses to Lisa Hamilton who needs them. I will my ability to slide daintily across the gym floor to Ann Moser and a fabulous trip with Young Life to Colorado to John Van Blaricom.

Bill Lynch: I will my driving record of no wrecks and no tickets to Warren Harris; all the crows that have escaped the barrages of shortgun fire to Jay Cheesborough; to Murray Chidester the other half of his car engine; and to Mr. Stewart a pair of red suspenders.

Tina Mallett: To Ann and Mike Moser I leave two 8 in. x 25 ft. grass strips; to Tory, one tube of Ultra-brite tooth paste; to Susan Fullerton, my five-year position as safety; to Tom Lynch I leave a thermos of Burgundy saturated spaghetti-o's and a pound of Goo-da Cheese, wrapped in inflammable crepe paper; and to Salley, my Fab-u-lashes.

Helen McConnell: To Mr. Stewart I will my shortest miniskirt, which will be sure to fit his major requirement: "Short enough to be interesting but long enough to cover the subject." To Duke Angier I will my alert and inquisitive mind in the hopes that Mrs. Moore will never become bored during any of her future classes because of my absences. My seat on the mourner's bench I leave to Conrad Madden so that he too may become chaste and be relieved of all Saturday morning hangovers after those WILD Friday nights.

Evan McDade: To Salley Mallett I will a dogeared copy of The House at Pooh Corner; to Ken Wright I will one pair of neon-blue socks, and my extraordinary ability for raising convertible tops; to Lisa Hamilton, two scripts and a wide assortment of folk songs; to Tad Wright my ability for staying out of trouble.

Sherry Packer: To David Benninga I leave a jumbo box of Kleenex; to Alex Alexander and Mike Peterson, my "Berlitz Italian Self-Teacher"; to Conrad Madden, a sweaty handshake; and to Mr. Stewart I leave a set of complete recordings of Wagner's "Ring" and the same to Vaughn Polansky.

Vaughn Polansky: I will a bottle of Paris to Mme. Tanner, a Shakespeare machine to David Benninga, a tangerine-flake marauder playing the theme of "Dr. Spock's Life Story" on a sitar to Larry Formato, a recording of "The Humblebee" by La Borsa to Sherry Packer, General Motors and General Mudd carrying signs reading "Scratch a Russian Today" on a horny dilemma to Mr. Stewart, a black power button pinned on a friendly spirit to M. L., and a Hershey wrapped up in a foil to all the boys.

Priscilla Robinson: To Henry Stewart I will all my messy papers. To Mrs. George Stephens, our devoted librarian, I will $3.00. Helen McConnell and I leave our names to Ann Hinds and Marsha Woodard to continue to confuse Mr. Abell. Finally I will to Mr. Stewart a packet of "gold-dust."

David Score: I will my fantastic ability in foreign languages to Richard Miller. I will my ability to eat all lunches from the cafeteria to Mike Moser. Finally, I will my fantastic ability to read rapidly to Miss McCabe in the hopes that she will reread the classics and make up a few new easy tests.

Kathy Smith: To Glenda Harris, one periopod from Donnie Underdog and one car wash; to Gloria Crum, one gym teacher and a coke at Buck's; to Priscilla Robinson, one enormous box that she can put under her bed to hold her Spanish notes; to Tina Mallett, one trip to the Canada Dry Co. and fifty egg cartons; and to Sally Mallett my job as J. V. secretary.

James Turbyfill: To Wallace Dawkins I leave one old stogie. To Paul Dickerson I leave the privilege of taking Rebecca Mynatt to and from school. I will to Duke Angier my great skiing ability and hopes that his disciples won't betray him. (Amen.)

Mary Van Blarcom: I will to Lisa Hamilton that beloved, dusty, and untuned piano (which graces our stage and often imprisons Mrs. Lord by allowing itself to be placed against her door) upon which she may echo my dulcet tones and ardent arpeggios in all future Christmas programs and graduation exercises (including my own — If I'm lucky). To Diane Wondisford I leave my Converse tennis shoes. To Anne Moser and Anna Keever I reluctantly leave two cent pennies.

PLAYBOY

Gather the stars if you wish it so.
Gather the songs and keep them.
Gather for keeping years and years.
And then . . .
Loosen your hands, let go and say good-by.
Let the stars and songs go.
Let the faces and years go.
Loosen your hands and say good-by.
